Case No. 2:15-cv-448

MEMORANDUM

Plaintiffs in this case challenge the Mine Safety and Health Administration's (MSHA) January, 2013 pattern of violations final rule. The case schedule currently provides that the parties will file cross-motions for judgment on the administrative record on May 19, 2017. Rather than concurrently litigating and negotiating a possible settlement of the dispute, the parties are open to negotiating a mutually agreeable resolution that could avoid further litigation. Following a May 1, 2017 meeting of counsel and representatives of the plaintiffs in both related cases, the Department of Justice, the Department of Labor, and MSHA, all parties agreed that such settlement negotiations were sufficiently promising to warrant seeking a stay of this litigation. The parties have since discussed their commitment to a structured series of conferences to consider a negotiated resolution.

As such, the parties seek the Court's approval of a 120-day stay of all proceedings in both related cases. This Court has the inherent power to stay a case to achieve "economy of time and effort for itself, for counsel, and for litigants." Gray v. Bush, 628 F.3d 779, 785 (6th Cir. 2010). The parties believe that a stay of proceedings is appropriate to avoid potentially unnecessary further litigation and to conserve judicial resources. The parties therefore respectfully request that this Court exercise its discretion to stay this case for 120 days because doing so will allow the parties to focus on whether they can resolve this dispute through settlement negotiations.

Respectfully submitted,
